Healthy Boundary Support Groups at 15 — © 2018 by Bobby Schauerhamer & Tommy Jones

A raw idea of a new peer facilitated support group for the Twin Cities Men’s Center (TCMC) was taking form early in the Spring of 2004. The idea was proposed to the Board of Directors at TCMC and was approved to move forward. Bobby Schauerhamer and Tommy Jones had a vision to bring men who were working to maintain healthy sexual boundaries together to support each others efforts.

We struggled with the name initially and noticed that the early participants were coming for support around issues that over reached our intentions. Changing the name of the group to it’s current form helped with attracting men for the reasons that we had envisioned. We never turned any man away, rather we assisted them in finding support better suited to their issues.

Men initially came to the Healthy Boundaries (HB) group primarily via word of mouth and the postings about support groups in the Men Talk. These groups are now in the fifteenth year of operation and the way that men find out about the groups has changed with time. Many men now hear about these groups in their attendance at a sex offender treatment program, from a probationary or parole agent, a therapist and from the TCMC outreach that is being done by volunteers in Minnesota prisons.

About seven years ago we began having men from the Minnesota Sex Offender Program (MSOP) attend the HB groups. These are men who were civilly committed following their prison sentence. Men who had worked very hard in this program were eventually granted approval to participate in some community events with supervision and some chose to come to group. They have provided a unique depth of understanding of the consequences of sanctioned sexual behavior with the advantage of having several years of treatment.

Additionally, there was a recent Q and A article by Gail Rosenblum in the Minneapolis Star and Tribune (Sunday February 18, 2018 - Variety section) about the Healthy Boundaries Support Groups. We felt this article to be objective and very positive about the role of men in supporting each other for a safer community. Some men have come to the HB groups because of that article.

The mission of the TCMC includes creating a safe place in times of personal and social challenge for men to receive and give support to one another. The goal here is to support men in being the best husband, partner, father, son or brother that they can be. Our relationships often define how others see us as men. We build community upon how we interact with others.

Many men have been attracted to what the TCMC has to offer by virtue of support and services which have otherwise been sparse or absent in the community. Understandably, the need for specific support has changed in some areas over the years. The need for support around developing or maintaining healthy sexual boundaries seems to have only increased over the time of existence for these groups.

The Healthy Boundaries Support Groups have recently grown to four separate sessions, two of which are at the TCMC in Minneapolis, and two being at rented space in the St. Paul offices of Project Pathfinders. The most recent addition has been a Thursday evening session at Project Pathfinder meeting from 5:30 to 7:30 pm. There have been between 45 to 50 men in attendance at one of the weekly sessions for the past several months.

We have been fortunate over the years to have qualified men emerge as facilitators for the HB groups. All facilitators are volunteers who have devoted much of their time to providing some leadership and guidance to these groups. They also attend a training session on an annual basis. These men include Gary Weldon, Rich Powell, Sean Kratz, and Thomas Koepke.

Several other men have provided additional support to the HB groups by doing set up, administrative paperwork and by having an opening inspirational reading. We usually have an opening inspirational reading that sets the tone for men as they check in. Men also often give a small voluntary donation at their attendance in group which helps the TCMC to continue it’s mission.

Some men come to these groups for a few weeks to gain support surrounding a transient issue. Many others come and stay to continue to gain support around ongoing issues and to support others. Each of the sessions have developed a core group of men who can reliably be expected to be there and to support others in their journey.

The real strength of these groups lies with the men who participate consistently week after week......the men who remain members mainly to help and support others on their journey to stronger and healthier boundaries. These groups continue to expand and to provide a safe and confidential space in which to share, to confide, and to grow. Over the years, the Boundary Groups have helped and supported many men, their families, and have helped keep the community a safer place to live.

We will try to give you a second update in another 15 years.

Bobby Schauerhamer & Tommy Jones are active TCMC volunteers, former board members, and creators of the HB and Addiction Busters support groups.

Letter from the Chair

(Vice-Chair Andy Mickel pinch-hitting this issue for Damon Starks)

Consensus all around the Men’s Center these days is that things are running surprisingly smoothly, now that a couple of years of disruptive changes are mostly behind us. Besides the cosmetic improvements in appearance and furnishings, we now are operating with updated information infrastructure (website, office computer facilities). But most importantly it’s our paid staff that has made the difference: Tom Maher (our office manager since January 2017) and John Hesch who tirelessly coordinates Anger Management classes.

Guiding vision in all this has been the leadership of board chair Damon Starks who inspires board members to become active on committees and task groups, and treasurer Rick Charlson who provides strategic direction on income and expenses.

The essential limitation is the number of available volunteers with the right skills and motivation as well a someone to coordinate them. Our chronic need (held over for the past 20-30 years) is to find a coordinator of volunteers which would probably enable the Men’s Center to operate at the next higher level.

I’m leading the Outreach Task Group, and this year we’ve already partnered with a theater group and a film group. We co-sponsored a play “Apples in Winter” in exchange for their community members distributing copies of Men Talk to some coffee shops. The film: “The Mask We Live In” will be shown by a documentary group within the MSP Film Society and TCMC was an instrumental co-sponsor in helping sell the ticket minimum for the showing.

We continue to make connections with groups who are doing intelligent work for making our culture even more human-oriented.

The mission of the Men's Center is to provide resources for men seeking to grow in body, mind, and spirit; and from that foundation to advocate for healthier family and community relationships.
The Twin Cities Men’s Center has been an important voice in the community for 40 years providing classes and support groups promoting personal growth to many men and women. Professional leaders in the community have led weekly presentations providing a wide opportunity for educational, spiritual and emotional growth for 30 years.

In recent years, attendance of the presentations by TCMC supporters has diminished to the extent that the TCMC Board of Directors has agreed to schedule them intermittently as the interest arises.

The 1st Wednesday of the month Family Law Clinic will continue by providing legal support for those experiencing legal issues.

The Board wishes to express appreciation to the supporters who attended the presentations and the many volunteer professionals who gave their time and talent to support a strong educational component of the TCMC mission.

A small fee is collected at the door for each person attending:
- Non-Members of TCMC – $5.
- Regular Members ($25 level) – $3
- Sustaining Members – FREE

All presentations, classes, and clinics meet at The Men’s Center, 3249 Hennepin Ave. So, Suite 55, Minneapolis, MN 55408 (unless otherwise noted).

The Twin Cities Men’s Center does not endorse, takes no specific position, nor holds any opinion on the presentations, or any information imparted, or of the presenter(s) themselves. Presentations are the sole product and responsibility of the presenter(s).

The Mask You Live In
Host: Melanie Paradise
When: Thurs. Aug. 9, 7:00-9:00 pm
Where: St. Anthony Main Theater
Open to all Genders

The Mask You Live In follows boys and young men as they struggle to stay true to themselves while negotiating America’s narrow definition of masculinity. Pressured by the media, their peer group, and even the adults in their lives, our protagonists confront messages encouraging them to disconnect from their emotions, devalue authentic friendships, objectify and degrade women, and resolve conflicts through violence. These gender stereotypes interconnect with race, class, and circumstance, creating a maze of identity issues boys and young men must navigate to become ‘real’ men. Experts in neuroscience, psychology, sociology, sports, education, and media also weigh in, offering empirical evidence of the ‘boy crisis’ and tactics to combat it. The Mask You Live In ultimately illustrates how we, as a society, can raise a healthier generation of boys and young men.

“The Other Thailand Rescue Story” That other story is a tale about what I call "men's work." It's about men, who on hearing the call to save the boys, came in droves from all over the world. It's about how all those adult male warriors braved unimaginable dangers and suffering to save the lost young guys. It's really an ancient story about how, down through the ages, when the boys were in danger of being lost to their community, the men came for them. While the Thailand cave rescue is a slightly different narrative, and though we haven't heard this story so profoundly demonstrated in recent times, this is a very old tale. – Man-Making Blog, Earl Hipp, 2018-07-18.

Anger Management Program

Have you been told that your verbal and emotional expression of anger is out of control? Have you lost your job or spouse because you “blew up” one too many times? Have you been hit with a court order to take an Anger Management Class? Learn how to manage your feelings with the Twin Cities Anger Management Program. This is one of the best, and most affordable, programs in the area. It’s ideal for men who desire to significantly improve their relationships at home and at work.

The focus of the twelve week anger management class is both education and support. Through class interaction, experiential exercises, lecture, and homework assignments, men will develop new ways to manage their feelings of anger. Following completion of the class, participants can join an ongoing support group to reinforce their new skills. These ongoing support groups will also be facilitated by the trained volunteer facilitators.

Length of Class: 12 consecutive weeks
Number of Participants: Limited to 12 men per class
Cost: $265 for TCMC Members ($275 for Non-Members)
Starting Dates: Classes are filled on a first come, first served basis. Currently, there are classes on Mondays, Tuesdays, and Wednesdays.
