These days, I have been thinking a lot about monks and nuns. I’ve been to monasteries and cloisters at different times in my life. I have participated in monastic and silent retreats where you eat, pray, and meditate much of the day. I spent 27 years connected to a spiritual retreat center called Clare’s Well in Annandale, Minnesota. The Franciscan Sisters, Carol and Aggie, did go out — but they also grew their own food, fed their animals, milked their goats and provided sparsely decorated hermitages for people who wanted more alone time.

Today, as we are forced to socially isolate, it may seem like a major hardship. However, it has been and is a way of life for many spiritual people throughout the world.

Cloistered Monks and nuns typically don’t:
- Go to sporting events, sit in bleachers and eat hot dogs.
- Have pedicures, manicures and massages in offices and stores.
- Go to rock concerts.
- Go to the gym and work out.
- Eat out in restaurants or buy take-out food.
- Socialize in large gatherings.
- Go to cocktail parties.
- Go to large shopping malls and buy a lot of stuff they don’t really need.
- Browse the internet and text their friends all day.

But we have not taken the vows that monks and nuns have taken. So, we have become used to the freedom to go and do whatever we feel like doing. We are spontaneous and rely on our distractions, sensual pleasures and social interactions. As we let go of some of this freedom, we hunker down at home. We go for walks in our neighborhoods and forests. We simplify, and turn inward.

It can be like being in a major Minnesota winter blizzard where there is no way to leave our homes. But this blizzard seems like it is going to last a while. Snowbound and homebound.

Stay home. Maintain social distancing. Don’t participate in larger events. The gyms, restaurants, salons, bars and many stores are all closed for a while. The hardships are many for those whose income depended upon customers showing up and paying. This is for the purpose of keeping us safe and healthy. This is a crucial time to start living more of monastic and cloistered life.

However, we can livestream church services. We have an infinite number of in-home distractions — television, internet, music, telephone.

Maybe there is a blessing in isolating ourselves for a while. Maybe we can become less reliant upon distractions and turn more inward. Maybe this is a spiritual opportunity.

It is a challenging time. It is hard on many people. Those who treat the ill are courageous and knowledgeable. We are grateful for them, and those who were feeding the hungry, and helping the poor and homeless.

Letter from the Chair

As I write this, I am listening to the inaugural poet honoring POTUS 46 and a hopeful rebooting of our Nation. 22 year old Amanda G. invites us “The new dawn blooms as we free it. For there is always light, if only we’re brave enough to see it. If only we’re brave enough to be it.”

Being the light of peace and serenity of our true nature as peaceful beings, I sense is a goal for the men of TCMC. Breathing into the energy of our Wicozani, in one word, a commitment I made for the year 2021, in D/Lakota is about modeling balanced health, for ourselves and for those we serve. @ TCMC in body, voice, mind and spirit. Transitions!

Twenty Men attended our annual meeting Jan 9th, and elected Benjamin Alfaro as our newest board member. Gratitude for the lack of drama as the torch of our chair leadership was handed over peacefully. Damon Starks, chair for the past three years, stepped back, & on Jan 11, the board elected me to serve chair for at least one year. Ben Alfaro stepped up to be secretary.

Damon’s visionary leadership encouraged us to migrate online, were we continue to connect during the COVID pandemic. With the death of our brother George Floyd in May, we created a pilot program that looks at issues of race and class affecting our culture. With 3 zoom sessions of 4 hours each, on Saturdays, these topics were confronted in “Removing the Guard Rails: Healing through Relationships” outlines and break-out sessions. Alternate Board member Malik Holt-Shabazz led the sessions, attended by up to 14 men from Nov. through Jan 16: mostly local men, & two outstate men from Iowa and the Yukon in Canada.

In 2021 we envision creating more safe intentional spaces and partnerships, where “all men are welcome” virtually. Thanks to the generosity of our members and donors, effective home based Zoom Room and conference calls; TCMC continues to be led by our mission of service. Visionary work by our Securing of Future Task Force, led by past Chair Joe S., is pooling from our 44 years experience here in Minnesota, to continue a vibrant presence of service in an expanded service area. More will be revealed. Please consider attending our next board meeting Feb. 8.

In service,

TOM WEAVER
TCMC BOARD CHAIR

People have lost their freedom, their incomes, their health and their opportunities to hug and connect physically.

Let us deepen ourselves and grow in love and a desire to serve others. We can meditate, pray for others, be kind, and be grateful for all the gifts and blessings we have been given.

Maybe out of this can come more kindness, empathy and compassion.

Dr. Michael Obsatz is Professor Emeritus from Macalester College where he taught education and sociology courses for 40 years. He is an author, film-maker, workshop leader, and was in the “Men’s Survival Resource Guide” written in Minneapolis in the 1970’s. This article was written in 2020 a couple months after the COVID-19 pandemic began. It’s still relevant in 2021.
The mission of the Men’s Center is to provide resources for men seeking to grow in body, mind, and spirit, and from that foundation to advocate for healthier family and community relationships.

1976 In Our 45th Year of Public Service 2021

Feb/Mar 2021
The Twin Cities Men’s Center has been an important voice in the community for 45 years providing classes and support groups promoting personal growth to many men and women. Professional leaders in the community have led weekly presentations providing a wide opportunity for educational, spiritual and emotional growth for 33 years.

In recent years, attendance of the presentations by TCMC supporters has diminished to the extent that the TCMC Board of Directors has agreed to schedule them intermittently as the interest arises.

The 1st Wednesday of the month Family Law Clinic will continue by providing legal support for those experiencing legal issues.

The Board wishes to express appreciation to the supporters who attended the presentations and the many volunteer professionals who gave their time and talent to support a strong educational component of the TCMC mission.

A small fee is collected at the door for each person attending:
- Non-Members of TCMC – $5
- Regular Members ($25 level) – $3
- Sustaining Members – FREE

All presentations, classes, and clinics meet by phone or video chat until further notice. Sometime in 2021, we plan to resume meeting in-person at The Men’s Center, 3249 Hennepin Ave. So, Suite 55, Minneapolis, MN 55408 (unless otherwise noted).

The Twin Cities Men’s Center does not endorse, take no specific position, nor holds any opinion on the presentations, or of any information imparted, or of the presenter(s) themselves. Presentations are the sole product and responsibility of the presenter(s).

PRESENTATIONS

Many adults have been sexually abused in childhood or adolescence, or have experienced sexual trauma as adults. Whether you have clear memories or vague recollections, perhaps you experience feelings of shame, self-hate, guilt, fear, anger, grief, or embarrassment. Sharing your story and feelings with others can release these feelings, while creating and renewing patterns of comfortable, healthy, and rewarding interactions with people of both sexes. This support group provides a safe environment to share your experiences and learn about how others are coping with these issues. Join us in developing healthier attitudes and behaviors that transform us from survivors into living life to the fullest.

Questions, call Jerry, 763-546-4133.

OUTDOOR Monthly Men’s Sunday Brunches to resume in April or May 2021.

From our US Mail:

“...I truly admire the TC men’s community. As men we struggle, fail, get sad, get mad, and get screwed over by gender politics. You understand and offer an ear for men and women. Keep doing your great work helping men of all types. Yet also spend time to care for yourself—stay positive. A humble, heartfelt thank you! Much respect.”

“Hello TCMC! Thank you for everything you do. Anytime you need my assistance, please feel free too reach out to me. Thank you!”

“Great job with men!”
– John Driggs, 2020-12-29

“Keep up your good work!”
– Lowell Johnson, 2020-12-29

“Here are my dues for year 2021. Plus a little extra for the larder.”
– Francis Baumli, 2021-01-05.

“Gentlemen, I’m thinking of you and would like to thank-you for all you are doing. Please accept this small donation.”
– Allan Dahl 2021-01-05.

Virtual Minnesota Men’s Conference “Into the Belly of Ice and Snow” was held online Jan 29-30 (Fri.&Sat.). [Notice was received too late to incorporate into previous issue of Men Talk.] Guest presenters were: Miguel Rivera, Ben Dennis, Timothy Young, Walton Stanley, and Thomas R. Smith.

“In the northern world, winter is a time for going inside, both physically and psychically. While the purifying cold stills the living world above the ground, below the frost line, the great tap roots continue to thrive and to drink from deep waters.

Among many peoples, winter is the time for stories; for gathering close round the fire and hearing old tales “remembered” that is put back together, sometimes in surprising ways.

This winter, we will not be able to physically gather round the fire as we have done in years past, but we can gather virtually around a story, around poetry, around thoughtful talk.”

Addressing the male loneliness epidemic: Who Stole the Masculine Soul?
– Jed Diamond

“I was five years old when my 45-year-old father took an overdose of sleeping pills. According to his journal, which I found many years later, he had become increasingly withdrawn and depressed because he couldn’t make a living to support his family. There are millions of men today who are feeling the same pain. Do not give up. There is hope. Reach out. You aren’t alone.

“The last entry in my father’s journal, written six days before he overdosed, still brings me to tears:

“A hundred failures, an endless number of failures, until now, my confidence, my hope, my belief in myself, has run completely out. Middle-aged, I stand and gaze ahead, numb, confused, and desperately worried. All around me I see the young in spirit, the young in heart, with ten times my confidence, twice my youth, ten times my fervor, twice my education.”

“I see them all, a whole army of them, battering at the same doors I’m battering, trying in the same field I’m trying. Yes, on a Sunday morning in early November, my hope and my life stream are both running desperately low, so low, so stagnant, that I hold my breath in fear, believing that the dark, blank, curtain is about to descend.”

“Although he didn’t die, our lives were never the same.”

Have You Overcome Adversity? Would You Like to Earn $20?
Jane Gilgun, Professor, University of Minnesota, Twin Cities is looking for men to interview for research on success stories, stories of men who have coped with and overcome adversities. She pays $20 per interview. She typically does three interviews because she want men to tell me their life stories, and this can take time. The first interview is for men to learn about the research. They will receive $20 for that interview whether or not they choose to be part of the research. If interested, men can text or leave a voice message at 612-237-6126.

All are welcome.
